Subject: New Procyanidin Hair Growth Breakthrough

In this special report, you will discover the all-natural botanical secret from Japan that outperforms the leading hair growth drug in laboratory tests—plus the surprising results that might just be the missing piece of the hair loss puzzle...

Presented: HAIR-GROWING ACTIVITY OF PROCYANIDIN B-2

Late in 2000, Japanese researchers presented their findings to the international community on the hair growing effects of apple polyphenols—specifically one known as procyanidin B-2. The researchers had spent years testing over 1,000 botanical extracts for hair growth properties. They identified two successful compounds—one from chardonnay grapes, and one extracted from unripe apples.

A year before the landmark Marburg conference, tests were conducted on mouse and human skin cells. Here is what the cell culture tests revealed:

The procyanidin B-2 fraction clearly outperformed the grape extract, and nearly doubled the hair growth activity of minoxidil. "Procyanidin B-2 purified from apples," stated the research team, "shows the highest activity of more than 300% relative to controls."

Promising results, indeed. Next came the in vivo mouse studies. Lab mice were shaved, then treated with procyanidin B-2, procyanidin C-1 (also from apples), minoxidil, and placebo. Results of these tests showed "extensive hair growth" for both procyanidins B-2 and C-1, as well as minoxidil. After toxicology and safety tests, it was time for human trials.

Investigation of topical application of procyanidin B-2 from apple to identify its potential use as a hair growing agent, Phytomedicine, 2000:

In a double-blind placebo-controlled trial, nineteen men with male pattern baldness were studied with a daily topical application of a 1% procyanidin B-2 solution, extracted from apples. Ten other balding men served as controls, receiving a placebo solution. After 6 months, the study concluded:

- The increase in number of total hairs and terminal hairs in the procyanidin B-2 group subjects was significantly greater than controls
- 78.9% of subjects showed an increased mean value of hair diameter
- "Procyanidin B-2 therapy shows promise as a cure for male pattern baldness."

“The promising hair growth therapy we've been waiting for is finally here…”

The new prototype procyanidin B-2 formula has just been released for public sale, under the brand name Poly-GRO™ Procyanidin B-2. Based on the original Japanese study formula, it's been improved with meticulous attention to the clinical research results.

In addition to procyanidin B-2, Poly-GRO™ Procyanidin B-2 is further enriched with B-3 and C-1 procyanidins- then concentrated to 400% strength. If you've tried everything to stimulate new hair growth, this may be the most important research report you'll ever read. Because...

There are 3 Ways You Can Benefit Right Now from this Important New Research:

1. You can boost your current hair growth program with apple procyanidin capsules- Apple Poly™ Booster If you’re currently using a topical solution like minoxidil or another preparation, and it's working for you, great! Stay with it- and add the oral procyanidin power of Apple Poly™ capsules- the first true "hair vitamin," to accelerate your results. No matter how good your current formula is, it will be that much better when you boost it from the inside, with the richest procyanidin formula in the world- Apple Poly™

2. You can replace your old hair growth formula with Poly-GRO™ Procyanidin B-2- If what you've already tried isn't working, discover the latest science in hair growth with this brand new prototype formula, available now for the first time- with 400% more apple procyanidins than the lab formula- plus more procyanidins B-3 and C-1.

3. You can rapidly increase your hair growth results with the Poly-GRO™ Ultimate When you want the absolute best chance at new hair growth, you need to get these procyanidins on your scalp, and inside your cells, as quickly as possible. We’ve combined our most powerful hair growth solution ever into an affordable combination package- Poly-GRO™ Ultimate. How much faster will you see results when you are promoting hair growth from the outside in, and the inside out?
